London, February 13.

ON Thurſday laſt Sir James Wiſhart, Knt. One of her Majeſty's Commiſſioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great-Britain, &c. was introduced to the Queen by the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary St. John, and kiſs'd her Majeſty's Hand, being appointed to go into Holland to regulate and ſettle (purſuant to Treaties) the Marine Quota's between her Majeſty and the States-General of the United Provinces, for the Service of the enſuing Year.

Thomas Harley, Eſq; was likewiſe Introduced that Day to her Majeſty by the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary St. John, and kiſſed her Majeſty's Hand, being appinted to go to the Court of Hanover.

On the 9th Doctor John Shadwell was Sworn one of her Majeſty's Phyſicians in Ordinary, in the Room of Doctor Liſter deceaſed; and Doctor Hans Sloan was likewiſe Sworn Phyſician Extraordinary in the Room of Doctor Shadwell.

Yeſterday arrived five Mails from Holland.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Feb. 16.

Utrecht, Feb. 14. On Thurſday Morning laſt a general, but extraordinary, Conference was held; in which the Plenipotentiaries of France delivered to thoſe of the High Allies, their Propoſitions for Peace, under the following Title.

A particular Explication of the Offers of France for a general Peace, to the Satisfaction of all the Parties intereſted in the preſent War.

THE King will acknowledge, at the Signing of the Peace, the Queen of Great Britain in that Quality, as alſo the Succeſſion of that Crown, according to the preſent Settlement, and in the manner her Britannick Majeſty ſhall pleaſe.

His Majeſty will cauſe all the Fortifications of Dunkirk to be demoliſhed immediately after the Peace, provided an Equivalent be given him to his Satisfaction.

The Iſland of St Chriſtopher, Hudſon's Bay and Strait, ſhall be yielded up entire to Great Britain reſpectively.

Acadia, with Port-Royal and the Fort, ſhall be reſtored intire to his Majeſty.

As to the Iſland of Newfoundland, the King offers to yield up that alſo to Great Britain, reſerving only to himſelf the Fort of Plaſentia, and the Right of Catching and Drying Fiſh, as before the War.

It ſhall be agreed to make a Treaty of Commerce before or after the Peace, as England ſhall chooſe, the Conditions of which ſhall be made as equal between the two Nations as they can poſſibly.

The King will conſent, at the Signing of the Peace, that the Spaniſh Netherlands which are made over and given to the Elector of Bavaria by the King of Spain, ſhall ſerve for a Barrier to the United Provinces; and to augment it he will joyn thereto Furnes and Furner-Ambaght, Knoque, Ypres, and the Caſtellany of Menin with its Verge: In Exchange, his Majeſty demands, to form the Barriere of France, Aire, St. Venant, Bethune, Douay, and their Dependencies.

If the States General are deſirous to keep Garriſons in the fortified Places of the Barriere, ſo formed of the Dominions transferred to his Electoral Highneſs, and of what France adds thereto of its own; His Majeſty conſents that they ſhall put their Troops into them in as great Number as they pleaſe, and beſides, that they ſhall be maintained at the Expence of the Country.

In Conſideration of this Ceſſion and of this Conſent, the King on his Side demands, as an Equivalent for the Demoliſhing of Dunkirk, the Towns and Citadels of Liſle and Tournay, with their Caſtellanies and Dependencies.

The Barriere thus regulated between France and the States General, the King will grant, for augmenting the Commerce of their Subjects, what is ſtipulated by the Treaty of Ryſwick and the advantageous Tarif of 1664, with an Exception only of Six Sorts of Merchandize which ſhall be agreed on, and which ſhall remain charged with the ſame Duties that are paid at this time; with an Exception alſo of 50 Sols per Tun on the Dutch Shipping, that come into France from the United Provinces and foreign Countries.

As to the Commerce of Spain and the Indies, the King will engage, not only to the States General, but likewiſe to Her Britannick Majeſty, and to all the other Potentates, by Virtue of the Power he has in this Particular, that the ſaid Commerce ſhall be allowed exactly, and carried on in the very ſame manner as it was, under the Reign, and till the Death of Charles II; and will promiſe, that the French ſhall ſubmit, as all the other Nations, to the antient Laws and Regulations made by the Kings his Catholick Majeſty's Predeceſſors, with reſpect to the Commerce and Navigation of the Spaniſh Indies.

His Majeſty further conſents, that all the Potentates of Europe may enter into the Guaranty of this Promiſe. His Majeſty Promiſes, that the King his Grandſon ſhall renounce, for the ſake of the Peace, all Pretention to the Kingdom of Naples and Sardinia, as well as to the Dutchy of Milan; in whoſe Name he will conſent, that the Part of that Dutchy which is made over to the Duke of Savoy, ſhall remain to his Royal Highneſs: Provided, that in Conſideration of this Ceſſion, the Houſe of Auſtria do in like Manner deſiſt from all Pretention to the other Parts of the Monarchy of Spain, whence that Houſe ſhall withdraw their Troops immediately after the Peace.

The Frontiers on both ſides, upon the Rhine, ſhall be ſettled in the ſame Condition they were before the preſent War.

In Conſideration of all the Terms above ſpecified, the King demands that the Electors of Cologn and Bavaria ſhall be re-eſtabliſhed in the full and intire Poſſeſſion of their Dominions, Dignities, Prerogatives, Goods moveable and immoveable, which they enjoyed before the preſent War: And reciprocally, his Majeſty will recognize in Germany and in Pruſſia, all the Titles which he has not yet acknowledged.

The King will reſtore to the Duke of Savoy what he has taken from him during this War; as in like manner his Royal Highneſs ſhall reſtore to him what he has taken from France; ſo that the Limits on both ſides ſhall be the ſame they were before the Declaration of War.

Affairs as to Portugal ſhall be re-eſtabliſhed, and remain on the ſame Foot in Europe, that they were before the preſent War, as well with regard to France as to Spain; and as to the Demeſnes that Crown has in America, if there be any Difference to ſettle, Endeavours ſhall be uſed to agree it amicably.

The King will conſent freely, and bona fide, to take in concert with the Allies, all the moſt juſt Meaſures, for hindring the Crowns of France and Spain from being ever united on the ſame Head, that is to ſay, that one and the ſame Prince may never be at once King of both.

All

All preceeding Treaties, namely those of Munster and the following ones, shall be repeated and confirmed, to remain in their Force and Virtue; excepting only such Articles from which the Treaty of Peace now to be made shall derogate, or alter something.

Signed

HUXELLES.

Copies of these Offers, were taken by the Secretaries of all the Ministers of the High Allies, and were dispatched by Expresses from the said Ministers to their respective Principals; which Ministers have, 'tis said, declared to those of France, that on the 5th of March they will give their Answer and Counter-Demands.
